

VJ Ocean in a gallery

August 26, 2020 | By Claudia Kim

page 1 of 5

Yoon Ji-soo, Visitor

NEWS CENTER
Beijing 18:22

We can't live our everyday lives because of COVID-19 and usually during the summer we want to see the refreshing sea and waves.

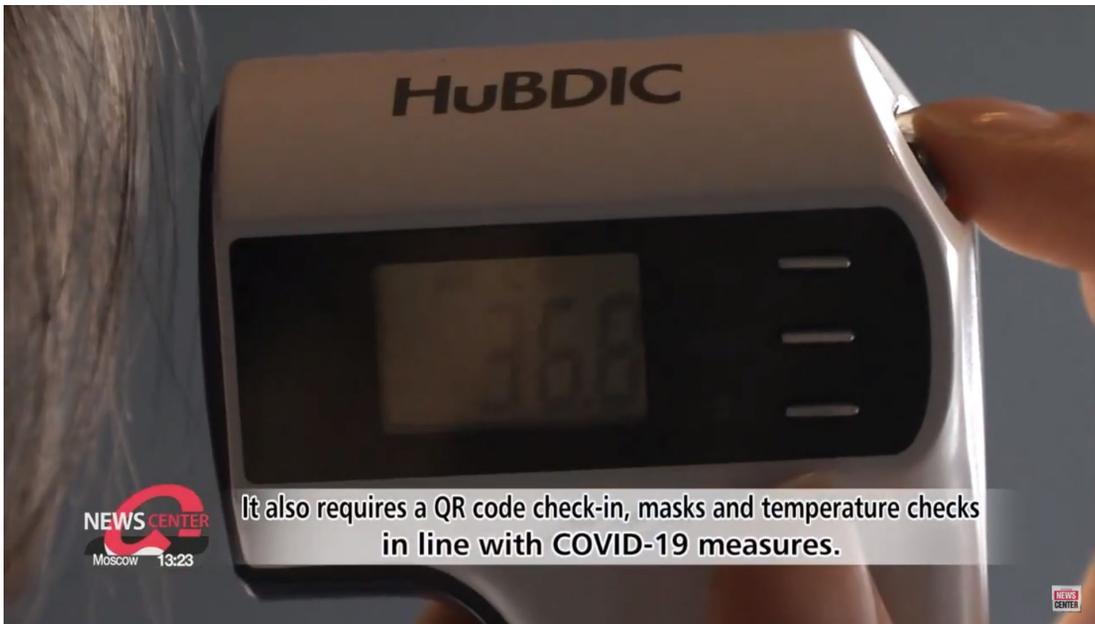

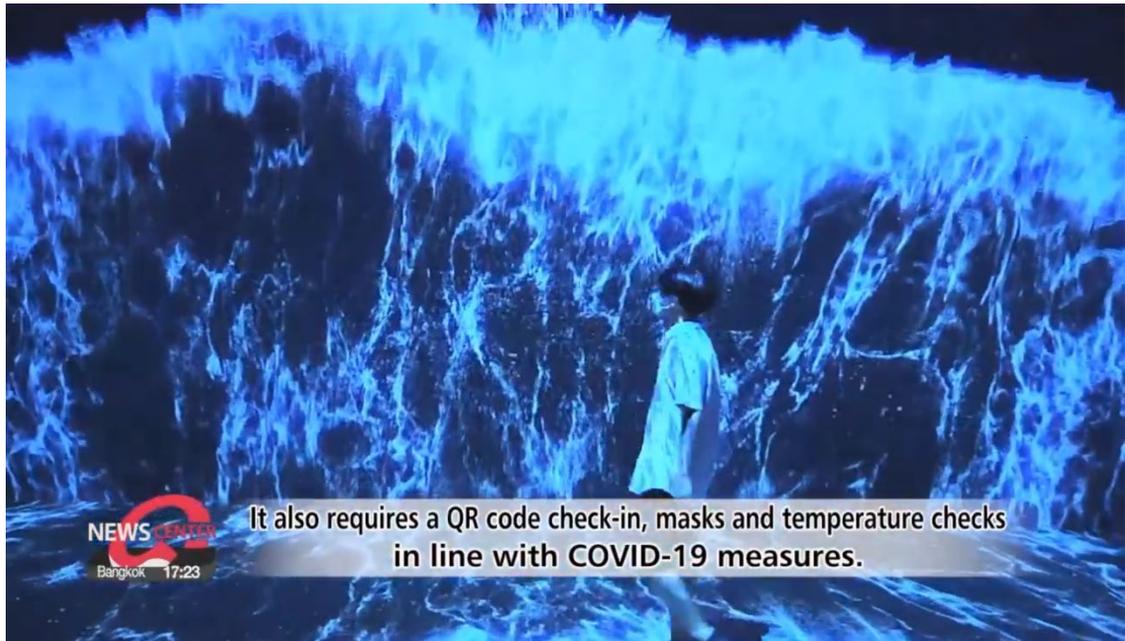

Yoon Ji-soo, Visitor

NEWS CENTER
GMT 10:22

But for now, this media installation project can be a substitute for the summer.

"Starry Beach"

Solo exhibition by a'strict at Kukje Gallery

A beach opens in a gallery

as beaches nationwide are shut down due to strict COVID-19 measures

"We can't live our everyday lives because of COVID-19 and usually during the summer we want to see the refreshing sea and waves. But for now, this media installation project can be a substitute for the summer."

The gallery only allows 10 visitors at a time.

It also requires a QR code check-in, masks and temperature checks in line with COVID-19 measures.

A creative ocean with waves that hit a 6-meter wall and mirror as well as realistic sounds.

We need to follow strict COVID-19 measures to keep enjoying this small haven of tranquility.