

WHAT'S NEW

December / January, 2017 | Shayne Benowitz

THEGUIDE

WHAT'S NEW

Even veteran fair-goers will find something novel in this year's lineup. Five spaces to explore for the first time:

WORDS BY SHAYNE BENOWITZ

Collins Park

1. NEW ART! ▲

Art Basel's Public sector, now under the direction of critic and curator Philipp Kaiser (see next page for a Q&A), is focused on sculptural and performance works that claim space or territory through size, scale, intensity or sound. Its title: Territorial.
Collins Park, Miami Beach; artbasel.com.

2. NEW MUSEUMS! ►

The Bass — a longtime partner and host of the Public sector — reopened its doors in October after a two-year renovation. Across the causeway, the Institute of Contemporary Art, Miami officially opens in its new home in the Design District on December 1. The Bass, 2100 Collins Avenue, Miami Beach; thebass.org. ICA, 61 Northeast 41st Street, Miami; icamiami.org.

ICA Miami

PHOTO COURTESY OF ILLUSTRATED PAPER; THE BASS (PUBLIC SECTOR); ICA MIAMI (ART CENTER)