RONI HORN

Kukje Gallery, Jongno District

To June 22: American conceptual artist Roni Horn is holding a solo show in Kukje Gallery's K3 space. The artist's cast glass sculptures, which are on display, seem as if they are made from water that has suddenly solidified, but look different from ice. "What makes these new works so captivating is their unusual yellow-green hues, a spectrum that refuses easy categorization and evokes land as well as the sea," said Zoe Chun, director of the gallery. The six similar sculptures are all called "Untitled," but the artist has also given them different poetically enigmatic subtitles, like "Changes in Daylight that Frighten Dogs" and "The Light that Moves against the Wind."

Admission is free.

Hours are from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. Monday to Saturday, and until 5 p.m. Sunday.

Go to Anguk Station, line No. 3, exit No. 1 and walk for 10 minutes.
